Websites for Psychological Research

The Psychological Society of South Africa (PsySSA)
http://www.psyssa.com

PsySSA Directory of Psychologists in Private Practice

Directory of Psychologists in Private Practice

The Psychological Society of South Africa (PsySSA)

The Psychological Society of South Africa (PsySSA) (Also known as the South African Psychological Society (SAPS), the Psychological Society of South Africa (PsySSA), and the Psychological Society of South Africa (PsySSA)) is a professional organization of psychologists in South Africa. It was formed in 1963 to establish the South African Psychological Association (SAPA) and to set up the South African Journal of Psychology. It is a member of the International Union of Psychological Science (IUPsyS) and the International Union of Psychological Science (IUPsyS) (also known as the Union of Psychological Sciences (UPSys)).

The Society's main objectives are to promote the advancement of psychological knowledge and the dissemination of research findings, to facilitate the exchange of ideas and information among psychologists, and to promote the ethical and professional standards of the profession.

PsySSA is a member of the South African Psychological Society (SAPS), the Psychological Society of South Africa (PsySSA), and the Psychological Society of South Africa (PsySSA). It is also a member of the International Union of Psychological Science (IUPsyS).

The Society's main objectives are to promote the advancement of psychological knowledge and the dissemination of research findings, to facilitate the exchange of ideas and information among psychologists, and to promote the ethical and professional standards of the profession.

PsySSA is a member of the South African Psychological Society (SAPS), the Psychological Society of South Africa (PsySSA), and the Psychological Society of South Africa (PsySSA). It is also a member of the International Union of Psychological Science (IUPsyS).

The Society's main objectives are to promote the advancement of psychological knowledge and the dissemination of research findings, to facilitate the exchange of ideas and information among psychologists, and to promote the ethical and professional standards of the profession.

PsySSA is a member of the South African Psychological Society (SAPS), the Psychological Society of South Africa (PsySSA), and the Psychological Society of South Africa (PsySSA). It is also a member of the International Union of Psychological Science (IUPsyS).